SMALL SPACES

BIG IMPLICATIONS

As commercial spaces continue to get tighter, waste management has become increasingly difficult. Trends that drive facility design and layout are creating a need for space-efficient waste and recycling products.

URBAN DENSIFICATION AT A GLANCE

- ▶ 4 Billion people live in urban areas¹.
- ▶ Global urban population is expected to increase 50% by 2045.²
- ▶ Urban residents produce approximately 2X more waste than their rural counterparts.³

COMMERCIAL SPACES GETTING TIGHTER

The average back of house kitchen is 1,051 square feet – this is equal to about 5 parking spaces.⁴

Average space per office worker decreased by 32% between 2010 and 2017.⁵

WASTE MANAGEMENT IMPLICATIONS

- ▶ More waste generated in less space.
- ▶ Waste containers need to navigate through tighter spaces.
- ▶ Less storage space for waste management products.
- ▶ As businesses begin to recycle and compost, more containers are needed for the same amount of space.

The container has a silver metal door on the right side. In the background, there is a wooden wall and some kitchen equipment.

IMPROVED

PRODUCTIVITY

Slim Jim® containers are designed with four integrated venting channels that create airflow throughout the container, reducing the vacuum effect that occurs when lifting out liners in traditional containers. By reducing the pull force required to lift out liners, Slim Jim containers improve productivity and reduce the risk of worker injury.

VENTING CHANNELS

Make removing liners up to 80% easier, improving productivity and reducing the risk of worker injury.

BAG CINCHES

Secure liners around the rim of the container and allow for quick, knot-free liner changes.

BASE AND RIM HANDLES

Improve grip and control while lifting and emptying full containers.
